CAREER OBJECTIVE

I am an interdisciplinary artist and designer whose practice bridges fine art, design, and cultural storytelling. Rooted in my Amazighen heritage and a deep respect for nature, my work explores humility and human connection through solitude and introspection. With a foundation in graphic and UX/UI design, I approach art with both conceptual and empathetic thinking—aiming to create tranquil, meditative experiences that reflect the calmness of human presence within the natural world. I aspire to engage in exhibitions, residencies, and collaborations that align with moral and humanitarian values, contributing meaningfully to humble communities and purpose-driven brands.
